HURRICANE IS HEADED FOR CITRUS BELT

Two Persons Dead & Many Suffer Minor Injuries in Big Storm Blasting Florida Keys

RAIN BATTERS MIAMI

Miami, Fla., Sept. 22—(AP)—A drenching hurricane with its 100-mile-an-hour winds still intact, moved over Lake Okechobee in south central Florida today and aimed for the state's rich citrus belt.

Two persons have died and many have suffered minor injuries in the big storm which blasted the Florida Keys with 160 mile gusts early yesterday and pounced on Miami last night.

Heavy gales and rain still battered the Keys and Miami today.

The center of the storm is expected to pass into the Atlantic about 8 o'clock tonight in the vicinity of Melbourne, 160 miles north of Miami and over Merritts Island, just northeast of Melbourne, about 8 or 9 p. m. the weather bureau said.

The hurricane eye passed close to the sugar cane growing region at Clewiston on the lake shore about 7 a. m.

Communications still were out today with Key West, where President Truman has his "little white house"; Everglades City, 70 miles west of Miami, and Clewiston.

A Red Cross survey showed 8,000 persons stayed in Miami in the storm. The shelters were stocked with enough food to feed 53,000 persons for two days.

Between 700 and 1,000 refugees from highlands county in the central part of the state found haven in the little citrus town of Sebring.

A 5:30 a. m. weather bulletin placed the storm—with its winds still packing a 100-mile an hour wallop—near Clewiston, in the rich sugar cane belt at the northern end of the Everglades, and on the southern end of Lake Okechobee.

Forecasters said the hurricane "will pass very near Clewiston and over the eastern rim of Lake Okechobee" as it moves northward toward Daytona Beach. It is expected to pass into the Atlantic early tonight.

Power in many homes was off—either caused by failure or deliberate cutting to keep people from being injured or killed by live wires.

Winds in gusts as high as 160 miles an hour were recorded by the navy yesterday at Key West. On the Florida mainland, the little fishing village of Everglades City, where General Eisenhower and baseball's Ted Williams go for the sport, was hit by 125-mile an hour winds.

The "eyes" of the hurricane passed 50 miles to the west of Miami last night.

Bids Being Opened For Turnpike Job

Harrisburg, Sept. 22—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission opens bids today for initial construction on the new $75,000,000 eastern extension to Philadelphia.

The turnpike commission in anticipation of receiving satisfactory bids, already has made tentative plans for a groundbreaking ceremony on Tuesday, Sept. 28.

The ceremony will take place near New Cumberland with the silver spade used on the original road.

Twenty-eight concerns, most of them from Pennsylvania, have paid $50 each for copies of specifications with cross-sections of the first 3.4 mile section of the four-lane highway to be built.

It is located in Fairview township, York county, immediately south of here and includes the elevation of U. S. Route 11, linking Harrisburg and York, so that the turnpike can pass beneath it.

Report Reveals Interesting Facts About Rent Situation

Washington, Sept. 22—(AP)—If you're paying the traditional week's wages for one month's rent, then it's costing you twice the average rent-payer's outlay, a government report shows.

Some 17,000,000 Americans were paying out an average of 12 percent of their monthly income for rent at the start of the year, the Federal Reserve Board said. The median rent was $30—which means half the nation's renters paid more than that, the other half less.

The Reserve Board also disclosed that the number of home owners has risen to a record 18,500,000 total. And it indicated that many of these wish they were renters instead.

The acute shortage of rental units has no doubt forced many families to buy homes, often at inflated prices and somewhat beyond

Nation's Vital Resources Subjects For Hot Disputes Among All Top Candidates

By The Associated Press

The nation's natural resources were subjects of hot dispute today among all four top Democratic and Republican candidates.

While President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey fought over western reclamation projects, their running mates hauled out quick records on soil conservation and other farm problems in a quickening drive for November votes.

Mr. Truman, speaking last night in Salt Lake City, said the Democrats stand for "rapid and uninterrupted development" of a west that has been "crudely and wickedly cheated" by a power lobby working through the GOP-controlled congress.

Declaring that the Republicans offer "strangulation" for the west, he said that under the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover administrations "quick and greedy exploitation" was the order of the day.

"Never before in history," the president said, "had so much been wasted by so few."

Dewey reported in a Denver address that the Truman administration is pursuing "careless policies" in handling America's natural resources. He added:

"We have reached the stage in our country's development when to be careless is to gamble with our country's security and the future of free men everywhere."

The New York governor called in his second major campaign talk for a "brand new approach" to the saving of America's timber, oil, metals, and other resources.

He pressed that if he wins the White House bid he will set up an administration "which really believes in conservation x x x and development of our country for the future."

After citing special plans for a "comprehensive national program of conservation" Dewey said he would insist that, in the development of these new programs, "no little supermen from Washington be put in centralized control."

Dewey headed his presidential caravan for New Mexico, where he promised to offer a formula to prevent a new war in his third major talk tonight at Albuquerque. Mr. Truman toured Nevada enroute to San Francisco for another speech in his 100-talk schedule.

Their running mates meanwhile, carried the debate on resources to the wide west and east.

Gov. Earl Warren, the No. 2 GOP candidate, told a St. Louis audience that the Democrats "can't honestly claim a proprietorship over agriculture—the cornerstone of the nation."

The California governor said "agriculture isn't a political issue." It's a vital element in our national life calling for consideration without partisanship.

Warren scheduled major campaign appearances today in the Arizona, N. D., and Louisville, Ky. Senator Alben Barkley, his Democratic rival for the vice presidency, plugged his party's farm record in opening a nationwide speaking tour yesterday with three talks in Delaware.

U. N. CONVOY AMBUSHED BY ARAB GROUP

American Engineer Listed Among Casualties Resulting From Attack At Jerusalem

THREAT TO MEDIATOR

Tel Aviv, Israel, Sept. 22—(AP)—Jewish military authorities announced Arab ambush and killing of four persons in a United Nations convoy at Jerusalem today.

No United Nations personnel was hurt, the announcement said, but one of those killed was described here as "an American engineer who came here recently as a technical adviser." His name was not disclosed.

The others killed all were Jews, one of them a woman and one the commander of the white flag convoy, the announcement added.

Haifa, Israel, Sept. 22—(AP)—Reliable sources said today members of the outlawed Stern Gang have made at least indirect threats against the life of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator in Palestine.

Bunche, an American, has taken over the duties of Count Folke Bernadotte, assassinated last Friday in Jerusalem. The Israeli government has accused Sternists of Bernadotte's slaying.

The sources, who asked that their identities be withheld, said that because of the Israeli government's extreme concern over these threats, Bunche and his top associates have been placed under a heavy guard of Jewish police.

It was announced in Tel Aviv that Irgun Zvai Leumi, like the Stern Gang, a hard fighting extremist group, has turned in its guns and closed up shop.

(The Israeli government ordered the dissolution of Irgun and continued its attempt to smash the Stern group. It went after both forces following Bernadotte's assassination.)

Bernadotte was known to have been offered a Jewish guard when he first began his mediation work. He refused it, however, saying there should be no need for such a precaution.

Armed guards now on duty at the buildings where Bunche and his aides live and work were not requested by acting mediator. The sources said they are on duty at the direct order of David Ben-Gurion, Israeli premier and defense minister.

Ben-Gurion was reported to have said that Bunche would have to accept the guard whether or not he wanted it, since the Israeli government would have to bear the blame for further terrorist acts and has the right to take all possible precautions.

Paris, Sept. 22—(AP)—A spokesman for Israel said today his government believes it "signature at this stage to accept" the Bernadotte report conclusions in their entirety.

The announcement was timed to follow closely Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's declaration in London of Britain's support for the Bernadotte report.

Britain thus aligned herself solidly with the United States for the first time in seeking a specific settlement to the Palestine question.

Soldier Cleared In Army Shooting

Washington, Sept. 22—(AP)—An army court martial acquitted Pvt. Gerald G. Wilkins, Marshfield, Wis., of a technical charge of negligence in shooting and killing an escaping military prisoner, the army said today.

Wilkins was on sentry duty at Ft. Myer, Va., when Recruit Robert H. Smith, Jamestown, N. Y., attempted to escape from a guard house on Sept. 6 and was shot by the sentry, the army said.

Wilkins was cleared by the court martial after a single day of hearing and was returned to duty. An army spokesman said this ended the case.

At the time of the shooting, Smith was being held for further investigation by military authorities after serving a four month sentence for auto theft, the army said.

NEW HOME FOUND FOR EUROPEAN ORPHANS

New York, Sept. 22—(AP)—Two European orphans, who learned on the day they arrived here that their foster-mother-to-be had died, are on their way to a new home.

A spokesman for the United Service for New Americans said yesterday that Manfred Wolff, 11, and his sister, Marion, 8, had left here for another city, after several new adoption offers were received.

He declined to say where the children's new home would be.

The children arrived here Monday from Brussels, Belgium, only to be told that their expected new mother, Mrs. Irving Rothschild, of Springfield, Mass., had died. Her husband said he believed he could not go through with the planned adoption.

WITH THE CANDIDATES

TRUMAN
Aboard Truman Campaign Train, Sept. 22—(AP)—President Truman offered western voters today what he said was a choice between the most ambitious irrigation and power development program ever devised and Republican "strangulation."

He carried his campaign into Nevada and California on the theme that a Democratic victory in November will mean "a glorious vest with wealth and security for our people."

A major address before a cheering overflow in Salt Lake City's Mormon tabernacle set the tone for near platform speeches at "whistle stops" en route to addresses in Oakland and San Francisco tonight.

Tabernacle officials said 11,500 persons sat and stood within the building while a loud speaker carried the president's words to additional thousands in an assembly hall or the grounds.

Police Chief L. C. Crowther estimated at 40,000 the crowd which lined streets of the business district when the president paraded in to respond to whistles, cheers and handclapping.

He brought to 34 the total of his talks since he left Washington Friday, with his appearance at the tabernacle.

His voice betrayed but little of the hoarseness that was apparent earlier in the week.

At the same time, his secretary, Paul Luckwood, said the New York governor will lay down a blue print at Albuquerque for achieving at home "stable and constantly improving economic conditions" which would "avoid a disastrous inflation by collapse."

Dewey gave an overflow audience in Denver's 4,000-seat auditorium last night a preview of some of his ideas on foreign policy.

He predicted that to more than 100 serious problems he said face the U. N. assembly "may be added action on the critical situation in Berlin."

The cheering welcome to Denver given Dewey by an estimated 45,000 persons who lined the streets on his arrival was capped in a prediction of Senator Eugene McCarthy, Republican, that the GOP nominee will carry Colorado by a margin of 75,000 votes in November.

Strike of Radiomen May Tie Up Pan American Airways

By The Associated Press

A threat of a strike by nearly 300 radiomen on Pan American World Airways and a possible settlement of a wage dispute involving some 25,000 telephone workers highlighted the nation's labor picture today.

The 296 radio officers on the Pan American's Atlantic, Latin America and Pacific-Alaskan routes will strike at 10 a. m. tomorrow unless the alleged layoffs of 50 radiomen are cancelled.

R. S. Taylor, secretary of the flight radio officers section of the CIO Transport Workers Union, who announced the threatened strike, said the other air and ground employees of the company might join the walkout.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has offered wage increases ranging up to $6 a week for 25,000 telephone workers in 42 states and the District of Columbia. Plant craftsmen would get pay hikes up to $6 and operators and clerical employees boosts up to $4, the company said.

The offer is being studied by the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers. A union spokesman said it "appears to be highly unsatisfactory" but he added the union "is continuing to examine it."

"The union's threatened strike last June was averted by the naming of a fact-finding board by President Truman.

In Ottumwa, Ia., five departments of the John Morrell and Company packing firm were closed and 550 workers were made idle after a breakdown in company-union negotiations.

Striking CIO Longshoremen are handling army cargoes at Pacific coast ports under contracts between the army and two stevedoring firms not connected with the Waterfront Employers' Association. The association has refused to negotiate with maritime unions who have not signed non-Communist affidavits.

G. O. P. PUBLISHERS TO PLAN CAMPAIGN

Tarentum, Sept. 22—(AP)—C. P. Howe, publisher of The Tarentum Valley Daily News and president of the Publishers' Division of the Republican State Committee, said today members of the division will meet with party leaders tomorrow night at Harrisburg.

Publishers and editors from all sections of the state will attend the dinner meeting with Mr. Howe presiding. The organization has participated in every state and national campaign since 1926.

Among Republican leaders to attend are Senator Edward Martin, Governor James H. Duff, Lt. Governor Daniel E. Strickler, Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood Jr., State GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor and George I. Bloom, secretary to Senator Martin.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND IN BAD WITH THE UNION

Chester, Sept. 22—(AP)—For the second time within a year a Delaware county high school band is in dispute with an affiliate of the musicians union.

This time the Chester high band has agreed to march with the Moyamensing Hook and Ladder Co., in the Firemen's parade at Reading Oct. 7.

Local 484, musicians Protective Association, an affiliate of James C. Petrillo's American Federation of Musicians, wants the band to stay at home, band officials said yesterday.

A year ago the Ridley township high band was placed on the union's "unfair" list because it marched in a firemen's parade at Norristown. The school band was restored to good standing three months later.

He is survived by his father, seven sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Lawrence O'Leary, Cyclone; Mrs. Charles Fulton Meadville; Mrs. George McCool, Erie; Mrs. Lawrence Werner, Russell; Mrs. Richard Seder, Warren; Miss Barbara, at home; William Bliss, Warren; Berwyn Dale Bliss, serving with the U. S. Navy at Norfolk, Va.; Severn, niece and nephew, also survive. His mother, Mrs. Annetta Bliss, preceded him in death on January 19, 1943.

Announcement of services in his memory will be made when further notification is received concerning arrival of his body.

PARADE SCHEDULED FOR FOUR O'CLOCK WITH BAND CONCERT AND FIREWORKS IN EVENING

The schedule of events for Warren's big Pennsylvania Week opening program next Saturday afternoon and evening was decided upon at a meeting of the committee in charge last evening in the VFW Post rooms, and it promises one of the greatest celebrations the community has witnessed in about fourteen years.

According to the schedule adopted, the parade, composed of six, and possibly seven divisions, will start forming on the east side at 3:15 o'clock, moving west over Pennsylvania avenue to the center of town promptly at four o'clock. There will be a concert by the Warren High School band directed by Henry Summers, at the Beatty school entrance beginning at 6:45 o'clock, followed by an elaborate aerial display of fireworks to be detonated from the Beatty playground athletic field beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Full details about the parade will be found in the "Parade Orders," printed on Page 12 of this issue. It provides the first division to form at Russell street and the last to assemble at Crescent. Names of division chiefs and aides are listed, and those in charge of the various groups are reminded in the orders to contact their assistance and make certain that they will be at their assigned places no later than 3:15 o'clock.

The route of the parade will be west on Pennsylvania avenue to Poplar street, north to Third avenue, east to Liberty, south on Liberty to Second, east on Second to Market street and disband. The marshal and staff will review the parade on Second avenue just east of Liberty street.

Those in charge call attention to the fact that today's "Parade Orders" will be revised and printed again on Friday. In the meantime, additional entries may be made. Any received before publication of Friday's paper will be listed in some division. It was learned today that farm women in some sections have become interested and it is possible that several floats depicting rural life may be entered. One of the last entries today was from Adam Bell, at North Warren, who says there will be about twenty horses with riders in the parade.

In addition to the six bands already mentioned as participating, word has been received that the Busti firemen's drum corps is coming. The committee will learn tonight whether still another outstanding band organization in the area will be able to be present.

The "Parade Orders" reveal the first division will form on Russell street, facing south, right resting on Pennsylvania avenue. Other divisions in the order named form on N. South street, North Carver, Schanz, Prospect and Crescent streets.

A military atmosphere will be given to the parade with all units of the Third Battalion, 12th Infantry, participating. The committee announces that Company K, of Bradford, Company M, of Kane, Company L, of Franklin, will parade with Warren's own Company I.

The finance committee reported excellent cooperation from Warren business houses, industries, individuals, clubs and other organizations in the solicitation of funds to defray expenses of the celebration and expressed grateful appreciation for the manner in which the community responded.

Drivers of floats, trucks or other vehicles are reminded that all units are urged to be in place no later than 3:45 o'clock and ready to march promptly at four. Any other suggestion in the parade orders is that the units enter their respective places in the line of march from the Madison avenue intersections.

Postage stamps will soon be available 24 hours a day at Warren postoffice. Postmaster J. K. Bell said this morning. An automatic postage meter is being installed in the lobby of the building.

The machine is one of the type being built by the Commercial Controls Corporation and is designed to dispense stamps in multiples of five cents. The insertion of the proper amount in coins will purchase five of one cent stamps, two of five cent air mail stamps or five of three cent stamps.

There is no crank to operate, the machine being designed to operate with the drop of the coins. Those in use throughout the country are proving highly satisfactory to postal users, and are one more step in the postal department's work to make use of the mails more convenient.

Exhibition Of Pictures At East St. Bldg.

Announcement comes from the East street school that the Swind Picture Company will have an exhibit of very fine pictures at the school Thursday evening, from seven until nine o'clock.

The pictures are said to be very beautiful ones, the collection consisting of those appropriate for home decorating as well as for the school room.

There will be a small admission charge for both children and adults, the proceeds to be given to the school for its picture fund. If anyone desires to purchase any of the pictures for home or a gift, the school will realize a commission on all sales.

Division Leaders Organize For Coming Chest Campaign

Warren Community Chest campaign is meeting with ready response to General Chairman H. N. Elmquist's efforts to complete his soliciting organization. He announces that his division leaders have been enlisted and are working to fill in the many positions on the various teams and committees.

Those who are heading the divisions of the campaign are: N. D. Paterson and C. S. Allen, Special Gifts and Industrial; C. A. Erickson and A. H. Templeton, Commercial; Mrs. R. G. Dawson, Mrs. J. Goldstein, Residential; J. G. Rossman, C. E. Whipple, Government and Schools; D. E. Schuler, O. E. Loper and Dr. R. H. Israel, North Warren; H. D. Rue and D. E. McComas, Publicity. A definite schedule of activity has been outlined as a great amount of detail work must be accomplished before the campaign for $51,500 opens on October 11th. Mr. Elmquist, in pointing out that the goal is only $1,000 over last year in spite of the increased cost of maintenance of the Agencies, stated that the citizens of Warren and North Warren should appreciate the care and attention given to every item which is budgeted by the Chest, and he is sure that the response to this year's appeal will be as generous as in previous years. The additional $1,000, he added has been included as Warren's share of the National Fund for the USO.

A meeting of the Women's Division will be held at campaign headquarters, Red Cross Building, at 2 p. m.

CELEBRATION PLANS SHAPING UP

The committee in charge received reports last evening indicating that the community next Saturday afternoon and evening will witness one of the largest celebrations attempted in Warren in many years. According to the schedule the parade will move from the east side to downtown Warren at four o'clock. There will be a concert at the Beaty school entrance by the High School band at 6:45 o'clock, and the elaborate aerial display of fireworks, to be detonated from a point near the creek bank on Beaty field, will start at 8:30 o'clock.

First publication of the "Parade Orders" appears in this issue and the committee advises all who are to have an active part to note carefully the information contained therein. Division chiefs are especially urged to contact their aides and make certain that they will be at their designated posts no later than 3:15 in the afternoon.

Extra police will be on duty to help patrol the huge crowd that is expected in town for the event, and it is probable that parking regulations, especially in the business section will be announced later. Third avenue east, from Water street to Conewango avenue, will be barricaded during the evening for the band concert and fireworks displays, and local motorists are urged to keep this in mind.

Persons interested in listing entries for the parade, in the form of floats, decorated or marching units, are reminded they will be received until Friday morning. In case you are interested, act quickly.

IT'S THE PERSPECTIVE THAT COUNTS

"Years ago," relates Charles B. Roth in an article in Your Life, "an old man taught me the lesson of keeping the right perspective on my goal. I went to him with much the same kind of career problem which faces many young men and women today. I was discouraged. He heard me out. Then he said, 'Got fifty cents?'"

"Glad you didn't ask for a dollar," I remarked bitterly. "Fortunately, I have got fifty cents."

"Good. Now, hold it up close to your eye," he instructed, "as if it were a monocle."

"More than a little baffled, I obeyed him."

"Close your other eye," he went on. "Now, can you see the sun?"

"Certainly not!" I answered indignantly. "I've got one eye closed and the half dollar covers the other. It hides the sun."

"In other words, you've maneuvered yourself into a position where a half dollar is big enough to hide the sun! That's the crux of your problem. You've let little things and problems become so magnified that they keep the important things out of your life. Back away from those little problems. Take a look at the sun for a change."

HANK MEETS FIRST REAL TEST

First real test of Henry Wallace's Progressive Party strength may show in the Wisconsin primary today. Wisconsin Progressive Party has candidates running for governor and for seven of the 10 seats in Congress.

One factor that may cut down Progressive Party vote, however, is that the Socialist Party is offering a complete slate of candidates in opposition. All 10 of Wisconsin's members of the 80th Congress are Republicans. All 10 are seeking reelection. Republican Gov. Oscar Rennebohm is also seeking re-election. He is opposed by one other Republican, Ralph M. Immel, by Democrats William D. Carroll and Carl W. Thompson, Progressive Henry J. Berquist and Socialist Walter H. Uphoff.

Only two of the Republican congressmen are unopposed by members of their own party. They are Glenn Davis and Frank Keeffe.

So there may be some upsets within the GOP. Most of the Democrats, Progressives and Socialists are unopposed. This lack of contest may cut down the vote in these three parties. But total vote of all four parties should give some idea of proportionate strength for the November election.

WATCHA KNOW --- JOE!

Bureau of the Mint wishes that people would stop asking why Joe Stalin's initials appear in very small type below the profile of Franklin D. Roosevelt on the 1947 Roosevelt dimes. The J. S. doesn't stand for Joe Stalin at all, but for John Sinnock, famous engraver of the mint, who died a year ago last April. Somehow this Stalin rumor got started by word of mouth, and it won't die. During his years of service with the mint, Sinnock designed many memorial coins and many foreign coins which the U. S. mint made for other countries on order. Sinnock did the basic design for the new Benjamin Franklin half dollars, but he died before the job was finished.

Here And There

Berwick (population 15,000) started a Christmas display plan about three years ago, under their unit of the Jaycees, which has been a remarkable success. It drew an estimated 37,000 people to their town last year on opening day, some of them from as far away as Philadelphia. In Warren the local Jaycees have offered to furnish the labor and materials for not more than five displays this year at a cost of at least $350 each, to be located at strategic points in the borough (probably the parks). Of these, they themselves will provide one display, leaving four to be financed otherwise. The Retailers' Committee has approved the project and will attempt to finance the second display. To interest other community organizations in sponsoring the other three displays, the following committee has been named by the Retailers: W. H. Cannon, Jr., E. E. Sullivan, Harold D. Baker, and H. B. Pettit. John Fenstermacher, of the Penelope, was responsible for calling attention of Warren Retailers to the Berwick plan. Investigation revealed that last year Berwick had eighteen displays on the Market street boulevard in that city, each display occupying one block on the boulevard. The displays consist of blown up paper mache and presswood Christmas figures and scenes, i. e., Santa Claus, Angels, Reindeers, Stockings with candy, etc., etc., spot-lighted in color and surrounded with small Christmas trees spray-painted with aluminum paint and hung with colored Christmas lights. Many of the large figures have motion motors such as winking eyes, moving arms, etc. The large figures are purchased but same displays can be made of presswood locally. The displays can be used year after year with new pieces added as desired. Displays remain the property of the sponsors but will be stored and repolished and painted by the general sponsor if so requested. In Berwick, various organizations sponsor one display every year. The sponsor either handles it themselves or pay the costs and the Jaycees take care of the erection and purchase of the desired pieces. Fourteen of the eighteen displays there are taken care of by the Jaycees. The first cost of a good display runs from $250.00 up to $700.00-$800.00. The power consumed is pro-rated among the sponsors annually and is not a large item. They report that they have had no vandalism and no losses of display material. These displays would provide a fine Christmas show throughout the Holidays and together with the home decorations to be encouraged by the prizes the Chamber of Commerce has offered and the regular street decorations in the business sections should make Warren very attractive, not only to the local residents, but to many visitors during the time it is on. Do you think the Berwick plan would work in Warren asks a reader mailed with the Retailers' bulletin. Indeed we do!

This and That: The blimp-sized pressure vessel which was constructed by the Forge Division of the Struthers Wells Corporation at Titusville for the Shell Chemical Company, left there by special freight train Sunday morning over the New York Central on the first leg of its journey to Houston, Tex., and the 68-foot long vessel attracted much attention as it was carefully tugged through this area. The original route for the train includes the New York Central, Titusville to Dunkirk, and Dunkirk to St. Louis, where it would be transferred to the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines for the remainder of the journey. More than 100 representatives of Optimists' clubs from cities in Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont, were in Oil City Saturday for a district one meeting, with sessions in charge of the district governor, Allison P. Olson, of Jamestown, N. Y. Warren, along with hundreds of other smaller communities now being supplied by pickup airmail, is going to lose the speedier mail service, according to Associated Press dispatches, which say the Civil Aeronautics Board recommended indefinite suspension of the pickup and delivery service provided by All American Aviation, and Warren is located on the Pittsburgh-Jamestown route. Under plans announced several months ago the airline will install larger type planes for carrying both passengers and mail, but since communities such as Warren, have inadequate airport facilities to handle the larger craft, it appears certain they will be eliminated from the routes. Incidentally, mail payments to All American totaled $953,443 in the twelve months ended June 30, 1947, and $1,468,468 in the six months ended last December 31, amounting to 7.25 cents for each piece of air mail picked up or delivered by All American. Two thousand persons attended the model plane show held Sunday at Plane field in Oil City under the auspices of the Exchange Club of Franklin and Plymouth dealers of Venango county, including Harry Bittenbender, former proprietor of the Penn Bowling Center in Warren. Illuminated by flashes of lightning and glistening in the rain, the gleaming white Freedom Train passed south through Titusville without incident, at 4:25 a. m. Sunday morning, with about 200 persons on hand to watch it at various parts of the city—it was a half hour late and running backward, says The Herald—"everything but the diesel locomotive was headed in the wrong direction." According to astronomical calculations in the World Almanac for 1948 the autumn equinox will occur at 12:22 p. m., Wednesday, when the fall season will begin, and the time for the next few days will be about even between sunrise and sunset, after which the days will gradually grow shorter until about December 21, when the shortest time between sunrise and sunset will prevail. Still time to enter floats, trucks and marching units in the Pennsylvania Week Parade. Call Station WNAE, phone 3032, or the Times-Mirror, 1400.

Years Ago In Warren

Dr. H. W. Mitchell, superintendent of the Warren State Hospital, urged a favorable vote on a proposed fifty million dollar state bond issue for welfare purposes when he addressed the district conference of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women. E. M. Lyons, of Clarendon, was re-elected president of the National Petroleum Association at the organization's annual convention in Atlantic City. Herbert G. Eaton and E. W. Smiley, both of Warren, were named recording secretary and assistant recording secretary, respectively. Miss Isabelle Brugge of Jamestown presented the Warren Zonta Club with its charter. It was accepted on behalf of the local organization by the president, Miss Alice Davis. Merritt Rohlin, member of First Methodist Boy Scout Troop 9, was named to a Scout Guard of honor for seven governors who planned to attend the Eastern States Exhibition at Springfield, Mass. Rohlin and Clifford Knowlton, another member of Troop 9, were official representatives for the Warren County Council, which had a carpentry exhibit entered in the exposition.

Hundreds were reported missing in a hurricane which struck with wild fury along the North Atlantic states. Bishop William Pearce of Titusville, presided at the opening sessions of the 40th session of the Oil City Division of the Free Methodist Church in First Evangelical Church here. An organization of Young Republicans of the Sixth Ward was formed at a well-attended meeting in the South Street school. Elected as councilors were Mrs. J. G. Kieran, Herbert Murphy, John Mead, Ray Col, Mrs. Anna M. Thorpe, Mrs. Betty Johnson and George J. Hesck. Jasper B. Shepard was chosen secretary. Warren county schools received their semi-annual appropriation from the state, amounting to $81,642. An interesting talk on "Three Years of Social Security" by H. C. Hoover was enjoyed by Warren Kiwanians at their regular weekly session. The Pittsburgh Pirates needed only six wins in their remaining 12 games to clinch the National League pennant.

Suddenly It's Fall.

Well, it was fun while it lasted, but all things come to an end, including the Good Old Summer-time. The G. O. S. will officially bow out at 10:22 p. m., EST, Sept. 20, making way for the Autumnal Equinox—Fall, to you.

Chapter 12

"LOOK, Gay," he began. "It ain't fr me or fr anybody else 't try 't tell you what you c'n do or what you can't do. You're old enough to know what's right and what ain't right fr yself."

"O-h, thank you!"

He disregarded her tone of sarcasm.

"I just don't like any messin' around. You know what I mean, so cut it out."

"There's just one thing more," George continued. "You heard me tell it to Corbin. Long's you live on the Circle-A, you're gonna behave y'elf or you're gonna get off it. This is the last time I'm gonna mention it, Gay. If you don't cut out this messin' around, I'm just gonna tell you 't pack up and get goin', and that'll be that, b'lieve me."

She pushed past him, started away, but he reached out, caught her by the arm and halted her.

"I hadn't intended mentionin' this, but long's you're gonna act nasty 'bout things, here goes. This carryin' on with Phil Martin."

"Yes?"

"I'm givin' you just one warnin'. Stay away fr Phil. Understand?"

"I hate you!" she screamed. "If you think you're going to run my life, you're another thought comin'! You... you..."

George simply quickened his pace, turned in the direction of the bunkhouse, disappeared in the enveloping night light. Gay stumbled along, sobbing brokenly. A shadowy figure stepped out of the brush, halted in the road. Gay, her head bent, collided with him, backed away from him in fright.

"Gay, honey, what's the matter?"

She stared at him for a brief moment.

"Phil!" she sobbed and threw herself in his arms. "Phil!"

He held her tightly, patted her head and back clumsily but gently.

"Phil," she whispered. "Take me away from here!"

"Like I said before, Snediker," she heard George say. "I'm willin' to do business on that herd I got in the north pasture, but I don't aim 't give them four hundred head 'o' cattle away. What's your proposition?"

"Seven-hundred hundred bucks, cash," the white-haired man said in a gruff voice. "Take it or leave it."

"I'm leavin' it," George said coldly. "You don't wanna buy cattle, Mister. You wanna steal 'em."

Snediker whipped out a roll of bills. He waved it under George's nose.

"What does that look like?" he demanded angrily. "You danged fool you oughta be tickled 't death that I'm offerin' 't pay you anything. In another couple 'o' weeks them head 'o' cattle won't be yourn 't give away, much less 't sell."

"Not interested, Snediker," the cattleman turned to Phil. "Martin," he said. "You're foreman 'o' this half-baked outfit. Think you c'n talk some sense into this danged fool?"

Phil grinned and shook his head.

"He's got all the sense he needs, Snediker," he said. "You know same's we do that seventy-five hundred is just half what that herd's worth."

Snediker glared at him, shoved the roll into his pants pocket.

George hitched up his belt. He turned to Phil.

"I'm goin' in and have s'me breakfast," he said. "You had yourn already?"

"No," Phil replied. "I'll get me a cup 'o' coffee down at the bunkhouse and get goin'. I got things 't do."

Phil grinned again. "C'mon, Snediker, I'll walk you down 't the corral. You left your horse there, didn't you?"

Nettie watched them swing past the house, then they swerved from sight. Slowly she lowered the window.

Phil marched along in silence. They had almost reached the corral gate when Phil turned to the cattleman.

"You got a lotta ridin' ahead 'o' you b'fore you get back 't your place," he said. "How 'bout havin' some hot coffee with me b'fore you get goin'?"

"Awright, Fact 'o' the matter is, Martin, I ain't had a thing yet 't day."

"Come on then," Phil said. He nodded toward the bunkhouse. "Over there."

They entered the bunkhouse to find that a fresh pot of coffee had just been put on the fire.

Phil watched the coffee pot for a moment.

"One 'o' you fellows see that Mister Snediker gets himself some coffee," he said. "I'll come back fr mine later on."

He nodded to Snediker, strode out of the bunkhouse, went back to the corral and saddled his horse. Minutes later he rode out of the enclosure and clattered away in a westerly direction. A single gunshot rang out, and he nodded to him, swung off toward the bunkhouse. Phil nudged his horse with his knees and the animal quickened his pace. Presently they were going downhill and the ranch buildings fell away behind them. Phil speared his horse sent him rearing ahead. But after a mile or so, Phil suddenly pulled up, twisted around in the saddle and looked back. When he was evidently satisfied that he was unobserved, he swerved his horse in a southerly direction, sent him bounding away. It was probably an hour later when Phil checked his mount, slowed him to a canter. Directly ahead of them was a hill... they went up its grassy slope at an easy gait, topped the crest and rode part way down the other side. Phil reined in, dismounted, jerked his rifle out of the saddle boot. He trudged up the hill to its very top, took off his hat and dropped it in the grass, then he sprawled out on his stomach with his rifle at his elbow. From where he lay he

Borden Funeral Home Has Service Record of 50 Years

An advertisement elsewhere in this issue calls attention to the fact that the Borden Funeral Home in Sheffield is observing its fiftieth anniversary.

The Borden Funeral Home was founded in 1898 by Jeremiah Borden, a native of Sullivan county, N. Y., and a veteran of the Civil War. At his death in 1923 he was succeeded by his son Corrie M. Borden, who had previously acted as his assistant. Corrie is a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Embalming at Buffalo, later taking a post graduate course in New York City, as well as having passed the Pennsylvania State Board examination.

In 1932 Francis L. Borden, grandson of Jeremiah Borden, and son of Corrie M. Borden, joined the staff, after being graduated from the Cincinnati College Of Embalming. He is also a licensed embalmer and continues to take periodical refresher courses including derma-surgery.

From its inception this firm has kept pace with improved methods brought about by scientific research in embalming and has always adopted the latest approved technique in funeral directing and placed emphasis on ethical professional service.

The funeral home is one of the most commodious in this section and the organization is qualified and equipped to accommodate the requirements of all, regardless of high or low financial status.

Visitations will be held Thursday and Friday afternoon and evening, September 23 and 24, when all interested persons are invited to inspect the facilities of the Borden Funeral Home, 203 West Main street, Sheffield.

The Borden Funeral Home is associated with the County, State and National Funeral Directors' Associations.

Fat Salvage Benefits All

By KATE SMITH

Singing Star and Radio Commentator

The other day, someone asked me why she should still save used cooking fat. Well, I must confess I didn't know all the reasons offhand, but fat salvage involves millions of home-makers, so I decided to find some answers. I talked to meat dealers, to home economists and to Department of Agriculture officials. I asked why should women save their used cooking fat?

Here are their answers and three excellent reasons to continue and accelerate salvage of kitchen grease.

It is almost sinful, in a world pitifully short of fats and oils to waste any fat. Used kitchen fat reprocessed for industrial use relieves pressure on edible fats and makes more food fats available for hungry people all over the world.

Then the practical benefit: A food editor pointed out to me that saving used cooking fat and selling it to your meat dealer, while it does take time, is actually the simplest way of disposal. Pour kitchen grease down the sink and what happens? You have to pay a plumber to excavate your drains.

Toss fat into the garbage can, and first thing you know, it has leaked through and left nasty stains in the lining of your pail. Storing grease in used fat containers and selling it to your meat dealer is by far the easiest and most efficient way to dispose of an otherwise odorous and worthless mess.

When you sell kitchen grease, your meat dealer gives you pennies for every pound. Not enough to buy a sirloin steak, but cash in the hand, which is more than you get for potato peelings, orange skins, egg shells or any other kitchen waste product.

Our government asks us to keep up the good work of scraping, scraping and skimming every drop of used cooking fat we don't need. And I think we all should, because it's one conservation measure that has tangible and immediate benefits for all.

Then the practical benefit: A commanded a view of miles and miles of the open range. In the distance, westward again, lay the Circle-A. He scanned the countryside carefully, studied every movement and billow of dust. His lips tightened suddenly. In the distance he spied a lone horseman.

"Reckon that's him," he said half aloud.

He reached for the rifle, realized it would take Snediker half an hour to come within rifle range, and he checked himself. The minutes passed slowly. Snediker was less than half a mile away now. Phil steadied himself... it would never do to fire too soon. He forced himself to wait, then as he watched the sweat-filled eyes and pounding heart, Snediker came riding up to the foot of the hill. Phil's hands tightened around the rifle, and he raised it halfway to his shoulder, checked himself as before. The cattleman's horse started up the slope. Snediker was barely twenty feet from the top of the hill. The rifle seemed to jerk upward. It roared suddenly, deafeningly, and the peaceful, sunny silence of the range suddenly was shattered.

He gulped, peered down at Snediker. The cattleman lay sprawled out on his face, one arm outflung, the other arm bent under his body. His hat lay just beyond him. His horse had stopped... he turned his head and he looked at his master with an expression of surprise in his brown eyes. He moved nudged Snediker but there was no response.

Phil stepped closer to him, bent over him, then touching him gingerly, turned him over on his back. John Snediker was dead. He was a black-and-white bullet hole squarely between his right eyes. Fresh sweat broke out on Phil's face and hands. He put down the rifle, moved it away from Snediker's outflung hand, bent down in the grass, and put his own hand into the cattleman's pants pocket. When Phil arose a moment later, Snediker's roll of bills was clutched in his damp hand. Quickly he shoved the roll into his own pocket. He bent over Snediker again, braced himself, then with a mighty effort, hauled

"The Lady Has Ideas"

On October 14th and 15th, the Warren Players will present their opening show for the 1948-1949 season, the title of the play being "The Lady Has Ideas".

While these dates may sound far away yet, actually the play has been completely cast and in rehearsal since well before Labor Day, this being the first time Warren Players have ever started work on the first play so early, which promises well for both the first play, and the season in general.

The cast includes Dick Anderson, remembered for his excellent work last spring in "The Importance of Being Earnest"; Eleanor Dobler, who is making her first appearance with Warren Players, Jane Bevevino, who previously was seen in "Night Must Fall"; Bill Brewer, who most recently was seen as the father in "Dear Ruth"; Joe Templeton, making his initial appearance with the Warren Players; Bos Trax, who most recently appeared in "Dear Ruth"; Fred Plummer, last seen in "I Like It Here"; Frank Cruickshank, who was the warden in "The Valiant"; Glenn Nelson, first seen in "Dear Ruth"; Winnie Allen, making her debut with the Warren Players; Louis Critelle, last seen as the persuasive landlord in "My Sister Elleen"; Evelyn Donnelly, who was "Mama" in "The Importance of Being Earnest"; and the "Every Knights" quartet, appearing for the first time with the Warren Players.

The play premiered at the Erie Playhouse under the title "Anything Can Happen" on December 2, 1947, where it was enthusiastically received and was subsequently produced in Cleveland, where it enjoyed a seven-week run, and most recently was given at Chautauqua, where it was also very well enjoyed by all who saw it. A modern comedy, it is unusual in providing a really enjoyable and entertaining play without any problems of censorship.

The appearance of a Barber Shop quartet in the play is another "first", and since they do not only appear, but also sing, it provides one reason to mark down the dates of the play now, and be sure to get to see it.

The best and most economical way to get to this play and the others that will follow it through the season is to get an associate membership in the Warren Players, which is the equivalent of a season ticket, providing admission at just half the cost of single admission tickets for the full season of four public productions, plus a studio production not open to the general public.

The Warren Players are always interested in getting new comers in the cast, and for those who would like to try at some acting, an active membership provides the same features as an associate membership, plus the opportunity to actively participate in one or more shows during the season.

Mail reservations for "The Lady Has Ideas" opens on October 4, so to be sure of getting choice seats, membership applications should be sent in well before this date.

Ladies Union At Starbrick Home

Mrs. Forest Nichols was hostess at her home in Starbrick to members of the Ladies Union of the Irvine Presbyterian church for their September meeting. Mrs. Marshall Gern, of Warren, was a guest.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Ernest Crull and, following reading of part of the 40th chapter of Isaiah and prayer in unison, a short business session was conducted.

The program consisted of readings on the topic "The Seeing Eye and the Hearing Ear" and admonished members to "lift up their eyes on high and behold who hath created the beauty that around them lies; and to use their ears for hearing only that which is good".

During the social period, Mrs. Nichols served refreshments from a table attractively centered with yellow and lavender flowers and yellow tapers in crystal holders. All present contributed to the free-will offering.

The next meeting will be held October 21 at the home of Mrs. Paul Nicklas.

SEEING THE INVISIBLE

IT'S a far cry from the simple single lens microscope invented by Leeuwenhoek to the complicated, compound instruments of today. The succession of improvements rival the original invention in importance, for they are capable of two to ten times greater magnification. What this has meant in terms of knowledge is incalculable, but it is undeniable that by such means the dark interior of ignorance has been pushed back tremendously. With each improvement, more of the unseen becomes visible... more of the unknown known.

Mrs. J. F. Crane, who heads the Warren County Medical Auxiliary this season, conducted the first fall meeting at the YWCA activities building Tuesday afternoon.

Many Schedules to Change With End of Daylight Time

With the return to eastern standard time to take place at midnight Saturday, local train and bus schedules will undergo certain changes, the bus changes being greater than that of the trains. Mail schedules will also show some changes, particularly air mail.

Trains 580 and 970, east bound morning and evening respectively, will continue to leave at the same time as during the summer. 970 will leave at 8:30 a. m. and 580 will leave here at 8:18 p. m.

Trains 581 and 971, west bound morning and evening, show a change in the evening. 581 will continue to leave at 7:16 a. m., but 971 will leave Warren at 8:03 p. m., one hour later than formerly, daily except Sunday. On Sunday, 971 will leave Warren 15 minutes earlier, at 7:48 p. m.

West Rube bus schedules will be changed considerably. To Erie, coaches will leave at 6:45 a. m., 12:45 p. m., 6:15 p. m., and a Greyhound coach at 7:48 p. m., which will carry local passengers if there is room. Sunday only there will be a bus to Erie at 8:35 p. m. A run from Erie to Warren at 7:00 a. m. will be discontinued. To Buffalo, the last bus leaving at 7:10 p. m. during the summer will leave 30 minutes later, at 7:40 p. m. The other daily bus to Buffalo leaves at 1:30 p. m. One run to Jamestown at 7:40 a. m. will be discontinued as of Sunday.

To Pittsburgh, there have been three buses daily and one will be discontinued. The two remaining will leave Warren for Pittsburgh at 10:00 a. m. and 3:20 p. m.

To Bradford and New York, the daily Greyhound will leave Warren at 11:47 a. m.

Mails to go by train should be in the postoffice at least 45 minutes before train time, in order to be dispatched without delay.

Changes in airmail pickups, with air mail to be in the postoffice at least one hour before plane time, are as follows: north bound at 8:14 a. m. and 12:09 p. m.; south bound at 9:03 a. m. and 3:56 p. m.

All times noted above are eastern standard time, readers are reminded.

Urges Indictment In Spy Hearings

Washington, Sept. 22—(AP)—House investigators primed three different legal weapons today for possible use against persons they link to wartime atomic espionage.

Heading the list was a recommendation by Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), acting chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee, that three witnesses be indicted because they "conspired to transfer important military secrets to a foreign nation, namely Russia."

Beyond saying that two are scientists, McDowell refused to identify any of the three witnesses. They had testified at closed-door committee sessions.

A subcommittee already has recommended that the full group seek a contempt of congress citation against Steve Nelson, a Communist party organizer in Pennsylvania. Nelson refused to answer committee questions on grounds that he might incriminate himself.

Baseball Spotlight Centers On Sox-Indian Game Today

By RALPH BODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Braves clinched their first pennant in 34 years today but the baseball spotlight will be centered on Cleveland where the Indians tackle the Boston Red Sox with first place in the American League at stake.

Billy Southworth, Braves, who have had the National League pennant virtually sewed up for weeks, can mathematically win it today by beating the St. Louis Cardinals providing the runner up Brooklyn Dodgers bow to Pittsburgh.

The Braves virtually killed off the remaining pennant hopes of both the Cards and Dodgers yesterday, taking a twin bill from the Red Birds, 11-3 and 4-0 while the Dodgers bowed, 12-11 and 6-3 to Pittsburgh.

The American League leading Red Sox are only a game in front of the runner-up Indians who have won their last six starts. A Cleveland victory would put the two teams in a flat footed tie for the lead.

A Boston triumph would jump the Red Sox two games ahead with only eight games left to play for each team.

Bob Feller (16-14), who has been pitching great ball since late August, will start for Cleveland against Boston's Joe Dobson (16-8).

The Red Sox trounced the Detroit Tigers, 10-2, yesterday in the only game played in the American League. Lefty Mel Farnell, although rapped for 11 hits, coasted to his 14th victory. The Red Sox opened with two runs in the first inning and led the decision with six more in the third.

Johnny Sain, the Braves' star right-hander and Rookie Vern Bickford turned back the Cardinals on nine and four hits respectively. Sain's victory was his 22nd-top mark in either league.

Pittsburgh's 12-11 win over Brooklyn completed a game that began in Pittsburgh on Aug. 25 when a ninth inning protest by the Pirates was upheld.

The game was resumed with the Pirates at bat, three runs behind, two out, runners on first and third. Ed Bockman up with a 3-1 count and Carl Erskine pitching. Erskine walked Bockman to load the bases and Hank Behrman took over. Stan Rokjok then broke up the game with a base clearing double.

In the regular scheduled game that followed little Joe Lonardi held his former Dodger mates to five hits in picking up his ninth victory.

The New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs divided a day-night doubleheader by identical 3-2 scores. Johnny Mize clouted his 58th homer with two on.

Newest in Huddles

Warren Red Jackets to Face Pittsburgh Catholic Vets

Greatly encouraged by the large turnout at their game against the Jamestown American Legion last Sunday, the Warren Red Jackets will make their fourth consecutive appearance on War Memorial Field next Sunday afternoon.

Furnishing the opposition will be the Catholic War Veterans of Pittsburgh. The squad not only ranks as one of the toughest independent squads in the Pittsburgh district, but also is billed as one of the best dressed.

The Pittsburgh team combines plenty of speed in the backfield, with a well padded line, and indications point to a very busy afternoon for the Red Jackets.

The game will start at 2 o'clock.

In another development along the pro grid front, the Erie Vets announced a change in opponents for their match in Erie Stadium tomorrow night. The Vets originally were slated to tackle with a team from Altoona, but this tussle fell through.

In place of Altoona, the Vets have signed up the famed Staten Island, N. Y. Stapletons, with the match to be played tomorrow night in Erie Stadium, starting at 8:15 o'clock.

Zale Fails To Demonstrate Old Time Zip

Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 22.—(AP)—Marcel Cerdan, a laughing Latin from Casablanca, is the new middleweight champion of the world, because he took Tony Zale's body bombs and kept punching.

In the fourth round of last night's title fight at Roosevelt Stadium, it looked as though Zale was about to tear apart the 32-year-old tiger of France. Cerdan winced and blinked his eyes as Tony landed a blockbuster under the heart. But he didn't go down.

That was where Zale lost his title. Cerdan, a product of wartime France, saw the way clear to realizing his lifetime ambition.

Once Zale had shot his heaviest artillery he had nothing left. Cerdan hooked to the head, led with his right, landed the fading champion into schoolboy errors and trussed him up for the kill.

Zale was a tired old man of 34. Dead on his feet and with no zip left in his punches from the fifth round on. Only the fierce pride of a champion kept him off the floor until he collapsed—as the New Jersey official physician said "from exhaustion"—just after the bell ended the 14th round.

Under New Jersey rules they went through with the formality of ringing the bell for the 12th and announcing that he had been knocked out in 12, but it didn't matter. Tony could do no more fighting that evening—and maybe never.

Although Zale and his managers hesitate to make it official, asking for a few days to "make up our minds," it was apparent to most of the crowd of 19,272 which paid a sub-par gate of $242,870 that Tony was all finished.

Dragons To Battle Titusville Rockets

Warren High's Dragon grid-ders make their first road trip of the season to play their first game under the lights this year on Friday night when they tangle with the Titusville Rockets on the Titusville field.

A evening kickoff will be at 8:00 o'clock.

Warren has notched two wins in two starts this year, with the Corry and Franklin squads as the victims, but Titusville may prove a tougher nut to crack. The Rockets finished on the short end of a 6-6 count against a strong Old City club, which handed Mullica a 27-0 drubbing.

Oma Is Panned By The British Press

London, Sept. 22.—(AP)—America's Lee Oma, flattened last night by British Heavyweight Champion Bruce Woodcock, was given further punishment by the London Press today.

Sports writers, taking up the boom of the sellout indoor crowd of 10,700 at Oma's feeble showing, rolled out such verbal punches as these:

Daily Express—Oma "did nothing but throw a few swings with the force of a whitewash brush on a wall."

Daily Mail—"It was plainly ridiculous."

News Chronicle—"Who let Mr. Lee Oma in here?"

Times—"He was not properly fighting fit."

Oma, whose purse was reported to be $16,000, commented: "I was terrible. Now I'll have to get a job."

The male killer whale has a semicircular dorsal fin six feet high and as the beast swims, just at the surface, the waving fin looks like the neck of a serpent. This is responsible for most of the sensational sea-serpent stories.

The Warren County Insurance League cracked the 1000-stroke single game mark to set two new high scoring marks of the young Industrial Tenpin League session on Penn slides last night.

The policy writers opened with an 864 that blew red hot for a new high league team score of 1040 sticks and finished off the evening with an 864. The 2770 match total for the insurance men also was a new league high and gave them a clean sweep of the match points against the Warren County Motors.

Dr. James Giunta toting the line for the insurance squad matched the league high single game score of 235, set last week by Bob Check. Giunta also rolled games of 193 and 172 for an even 600 series.

Human ears can seldom hear the incessant clamor of the bat as he flits about overhead because the bat's signaling note lies in the wave band of about 50,000 cycles and are about twice as costly as or vibrations per second. Human ears can only detect sound in the band from 20 to 30,000 cycles.

Flawless emeralds are very rare and are about twice as costly as diamonds of the same size.
